E-Learning for EVS plus 3rd training course

Venue: Cristuru Secuiesc/ Romania

26 Youth workers, mentors, supervisors & EVS project managers actives in European voluntary Service & European Solidarity Corps from different countries from Europe

Summary:

The on-line learning is a technical supplementary education which is based on offering educational contents via an electronic supporting means. Nowadays, after the creation of Web 2.0, e-learning has made a lot of advance and evolved from a "space for data-storage" which offers the learner packages of knowledge, towards a tool centered on the efficiency of knowledge and understanding which are jointly and collectively structured and drive learners into participating in the improvement of the educational contents: The people who engage in e-learning can explore, re-order, shuffle and discuss these contents thru the social networks and translate them into other languages.

In spite of the advantages and the ample potential of e-learning for developing the skills of European volunteers, optimizing the effects and the impact of their activities and gearing the volunteers up for vocational life thanks to cultivating entrepreneurial attitudes, e-learning hasn't yet made a breakthrough in this direction.

Given that we wish to ensure a chances equality to European young volunteers so that they could develop their skills all the way thru their projects, and engage these volunteers in a process of life long process of education which allows them to develop their competences, optimize their role in the host community and get prepared for vocational life by developing entrepreneurship-related skills. Our further ambition is to support and enhance the role of mentors and supervisors of the European volunteers, and e-learning seems an ideal means to this end.

E-learning has proven to be an efficient and sustainable means of modern supplementary education, able to create an environment of interactive and leaner-friendly learning, which enables the people involved in European voluntary Service to universalize, organize, modify and share knowledge.

In this context, we wish to collaborate with 11 partners organizations which are active in volunteering in 11 E.U countries, in launching 4 motilities which are cross-supplementing in a time span of 10 months, from October 2017 unto July 2018.

The 4 activities are as follows:

- A contact-making event, lasting 2 days, held in Strasbourg: there, one representative from each partner organization will convene with his/her peers & with the organizers to determine jointly the methods and the tasks of each partner for attaining and exploiting the effects of our projects.

- A Training course of 10 days , held in Lefkas (Greece, in which 3 participants from each partner organization involved in the EVS' & European Solidarity Corps activities (e.g. as mentor/supervisor, program-coordinator...) will take part. We shall piece together online platform for European volunteers & sessions of on-line courses which will develop 8 basic "key-competences" on the favor of the volunteers.

- A training course of 9-day held in Strasbourg (France), where the same participants as in the previous mobility will come together, with a view to improve the previous On lien sessions, to create a new E-courses & tools for the evaluation of the on-line sessions and to work out methods and instruments for the certification/identification of the competences acquired by the on-line Trainings.

- A training course of 6-day, held in Romania which 2 participants from each partner organization will attend (they will be selected from the teams who took part in the previous motilities). Our aim is to enable them to develop further skills, become efficient future E-mentors of our platform for the benefit of the European volunteers, and assume an energetic, fruitful role in keeping the implementation & the improvement of our platform.

Upon finishing of the 4 motilities above mentioned, we are determined to keep a close a cooperation with our partners and the E-mentors in order to support a proper implementation of our platform, increase the number of the beneficiaries, monitor and assess the impact of on-line trainings in the beneficiaries, and lodge common reports of evaluation suggestions, so that we could be able to adjust, modernize and update the contents and the methods of on-line Trainings.

Objectives:

- Giving the youth workers, the staff and the experts of the partner organizations, the opportunity to obtain new knowledge, skills and competences about notions of the e-learning within the framework of informal education and about uses of modern methods of learning in the sector of young people's informal education (methods based on virtual technologies) with a view to update and improve their own working process

- Promoting the adoption of innovative practices within the frame of EVS and European Solidarity Corps, by working out learner-tailored and teamwork-centered paths of learning and making smart use of Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) and of free educational resources, in a broader context of an open, accessible learning to everyone.

- Allowing the beneficiaries of EVS & European Solidarity Corps to develop their personal competences in the course of their service and join in an educational process which facilitates their transition from the world of volunteering into the professional world, by means of modules of e-learning which help them to acquire skills commensurate to their own needs (personal and professional), ensuring thus their potential as active citizens

- Creating an innovative tool of identifying and validating the knowledge, skills and competences acquired by non formal education, through e-learning.

- Improving the capacities / competences of the partner-organizations which are active in the volunteering field as well as in non formal education, making use of the potential of e-learning and particularly of the "Moodle" application.

- Improving the participation in the learning process and boosting the ties between international volunteering, the European Solidarity Corps and the "employability" (improving the potential for young people to land a real job, by working out a high quality system of continuous on-line education).

In order to make easy your trip There is a possibility to arrange a minibus to pick you from Bucharest airport to the hosting place, it will cost more or less the same price with the public transport.
